

A FOTOKEM COMPANY

TV

Keep Me Posted (KMP) is a creative finishing house specializing in episodic television, trailers/promos and commercial finishing. This includes conform, color grading, compositing, effects, title design and graphics, audio mixing, and HD mastering.

KMP provides powerful on-set color workflows that follow through the finishing process with total accuracy, allowing DP's and Directors to control the look and feel of the show.

Dailies systems can be deployed within the productions own editorial environment, increasing turnaround time and creative control while decreasing cost. Experienced colorists at KMP utilize this technology to enhance communication without having to second guess creative intent during final color.

In addition to dailies systems, KMP furnishes customized editorial environments and production office space, providing a true end-to-end television post experience.
