

FotoKem's globalDATA is a cost-effective software platform designed to quickly and efficiently transmit digital files worldwide. The globalDATA software provides file-based distribution via any internet connection for production data, dailies, studio publicity, trailers, animation, and visual effects. Utilizing AES-256 encryption, data is sent under the highest globally recognized security standard, providing safe transfers virtually anywhere in the world. And because it operates on Mac, Windows, and Linux, it requires no additional hardware.
